

TRAINING GUIDE

Selling the Gemtumbler

A 20-minute course for Grumbleton & Sons reps. Snacks encouraged; knights not.

★ BY THE END OF THIS COURSE YOU CAN

- Explain what the Gemtumbler does in one breath (a normal breath, not a fire one)
- Match the right model to the customer's hoard
- Handle the three most common objections
- Close the sale without eating anyone

Duration	Audience	Prerequisites
20 minutes	New and returning reps	None. Enthusiasm helps.

Course modules

Gemtumbler 2 and the rest of the Treasure Sorters range

Module 1

Why tumble?

A polished gem is worth three dull ones in any hoard appraisal.

Try saying

"What's in your hoard today, and where does it live?"

Module 2

Selling the G model

Anything cursed, soft or sentimental goes in the felt drum.

Try saying

"For a hoard your size, the Gemtumbler 2 is the one."

★ COMMON OBJECTIONS

The customer says	You say
"It's too expensive."	Compared to losing a crown for 269 years? The Gemtumbler pays for itself the first time a knight leaves empty-handed.
"I'll think about it."	Of course. Dragons live a long time. Leave the flyer and the order code; they always come back.
"Will it survive me?"	Rated to 900 °C and covered for 500 years. It will survive you.

Knowledge check

Answer these before your first customer. Answers are at the bottom — no peeking, we will know.

1. Maximum fill?

2. Which speed for guests?

ANSWERS

1. Two-thirds 2. Show-off